

David H. Hoff- hosted by Marjon Ceramics

Open Book Brushwork Class

Marjon Ceramics

Saturday, Nov 4th 2017

This unique class allows you the participant a chance to complete almost any piece in David's Seminar Collection. This is your chance to complete a piece that you may have missed or a project you needed more hands on guidance. Participants can complete one to two projects during the course of the session depending on the degree of difficulty of the project selected.

Some of the projects which can be selected are:

Bold

Fantasy Bird

Poppies & Butterflies

Holly Wreath

Cosmos

Blue Flowers

Most of David's other projects are three to four hour projects and if selected two projects can easily be completed. Check out www.Davidhoff.com for more ideas.

Please, have 1 to 2 pieces of ware for decorating.

Students need to bring the usual supplies for a seminar; water bowl, paper towels, paper cups, pencil, practice paper, scissors and heavy duty plastic page projector.

Be sure to have a selection of Shaders, Rounds, Liners to complete desired project. Specific brushes are not listed since each student will be working on their individual selection.

Class will start at 9:00 and will run until 4:30 with a 45-minute lunch.

Please purchase supplies from Marjon Ceramics.
