Have you ever wanted to be able to throw larger pots and work your way up from 5 pounds to 10 and up, then don't miss this 4 hour demonstration with Jim Calhoun. He has thrown over 100 pounds with great success and the techniques he demonstrates will help to further your throwing skills especially for large pieces. He will demonstrate various techniques on how to throw larger pieces using both wet and dried, firmed up sectional techniques. A sectional piece is the process of joining two or more pieces together to create one large piece.

There will be a silent auction for the pieces that Jim will make during the demonstration. The pieces will need to be finished sometime after the demonstration and Jim will work with the highest bidders to finish the pieces, participants will have a chance to work out what color the piece will be.

Jim Calhoun works as a potter in the Phoenix area and specializes in working on the wheel and teaching people how to progress on the potters wheel. He has been in the field of production pottery for most of his life, throwing pots for 41 years. He has developed a beautiful copper matt raku glaze and has produced pottery at numerous studios all around the country as well as in his studio. He recently broke the Guinness world record for the most two pound pots ever thrown in one hour, 194 pots.
